FLOAT FLY POND

As per a phone conversation with Rick, he made a few initial passes with the bulldozer to test out the water holding ability of the ground and made a small dam. It seemed to be holding well. If things go as expected, progress will continue as soon as the ground dries enough to run the dozer without pulling up a lot of mud.

More of this will be discussed at the next meeting.

SAFETY FIRST

This month's issue of Aviation Magazine had a number of really basic but important safety tips. The most striking to me was to NOT MULTI-TASK. Face each part of your flying or work bench activity as a separate item and stay focused on each task at hand. This will help to reduce unintentional mishaps that can cause serious injury.

RIP DAN CURTIS

For those of you who may not have received Aaron's E-Mail on the passing of Dan Curtis, here's the information:

Dan Curtis, long time member of our club, died March 4th after a long battle with cancer.

He served our country as an Air Force Phantom F-4 crew chief. Dan taught high school biology and also had a career at the Springfield Medical Prison Facility.

He was a dedicated club member and pattern flyer along with his flying partner, Russ Rhoads. Dan won a number of flying awards.

We will miss Dan at club meetings and on the flying field and we all wish him clear skies and smooth flying.
